164 S. OLD WOODWARD BIRMINGHAM, MI 48009 248-644-9849

Letter from the Editor

d'Etroit is my mistress. She is my life. She is my blood. When I lust, I lust only for her. When I long to be loved, I long only for her to love me. If I were to live a thousand lives they would each be wiz my petit d'Etroit.

From ze moment we met I fell madly in love wiz her. We spent much time together. There were delightful afternoons flittered away in ze soft warmth of ze sun. There were delicious frolics during ze violet hour, and there were, of course, many dark romps ze light of ze wolf moon.

d'Etroit was mine and I was surely made only to be hers.

But, d'Etroit is a mercurial sort. She is an unpredicatable creature, capable of discovering ze hidden depths of ze soul, playing, toying unmercifully, forcing one to love her before seeking new chivalries.

Why do you torment me so? Can you not see it is I, and I alone, who love you? Come wiz me and I will take you round ze world. Come wiz me and I will make you forget your faux lovers. Embrace me, and tell me that from this moment on our love will suffer no other infringere.

At your feet I will worship, my petit d'Etroit, and the chains of my fidelity, intertwined wiz my honour, will offer my ravished heart some whisper of contentment.

Please, transport my sadness from having to share you wiz another.

But, who are these interlopers I hear speak of you in such a way? What do they savvy of your virtue? What hint do they possess of your possibility? Away! Away wiz them all, for you are my petit d'Etroit!

Alas! It is not you who have betrayed me but my rivals who have betrayed you. Jealousy speaks many languages and each imposteur wastes little time in foolish attempts to beg me away from your bosom.

Fear not, my petit d'Etroit, for I now know ze truth. It is only I whom you love, and it is only you who receives my essence. We were together in ze beginning, and we will surely die together in ze end.

COMMUNIQUÉ

When We Two Parted

When we two parted In silence and tears, Half broken-hearted To sever the years, Pale grew thy cheek and cold, Colder, thy kiss; Truly that hour foretold Sorrow to this. The dew of the morning Sunk, chill on my brow, It felt like the warning Of what I feel now. Thy vows are all broken, And light is thy fame; I hear thy name spoken, And share in its shame. They name thee before me, A knell to mine ear; A shudder comes o'er me... Why wert thou so dear? They know not I knew thee, Who knew thee too well.. Long, long shall I rue thee, Too deeply to tell. In secret we met In silence I grieve That thy heart could forget, Thy spirit deceive. If I should meet thee After long years, How should I greet thee? With silence and tears.

Lord Byron (1788 - 1824)

To a Young Lady

Sweet stream that winds through yonder glade,
Apt emblem of a virtuous maid
Silent and chaste she steals along,
Far from the world's gay busy throng:
With gentle yet prevailing force,
Intent upon her destined course;
Graceful and useful all she does,
Blessing and blest where'er she goes;
Pure-bosom'd as that watery glass,
And Heaven reflected in her face.

William Cowper

"So long as the laws remain such as they are today, employ some discretion: loud opinion forces us to do so; but in privacy and silence let us compensate ourselves for that cruel chastity we are obliged to display in public."

Marquis de Sade (1740-1814), French author. Mme. De Saint-Ange, in "Dialogue the Third," Philosophy in the Bedroom (1795).

A Dream Within a Dream

Take this kiss upon the brow! And, in parting from you now, Thus much let me avow-You are not wrong, who deem

ON THE COVER

Background • Detroit Wallpaper Co. Art Direction • Anthony Brancaleone That my days have been a dream; Yet, if Hope has flown away In a night, or in a day, In a vision, or in none, Is it, therefore, the less gone? All that we see or seem Is but a dream within a dream. I stand amid the roar Of a surf-tormented shore, And I hold within my hand Grains of golden sand-How few! yet how they creep Through my fingers to the deep, While I weep- while I weep! O God! can I not grasp Them with a tighter clasp? O God! can I not save One from the pitiless wave? Is all that we see or seem But a dream within a dream?

Edgar Allen Poe

Wondrous Moment

The wondrous moment of our meeting . . . I well remember you appear Before me like a vision fleeting, A beauty's angel pure and clear. In hopeless ennui surrounding The worldly bustle, to my ear For long your tender voice kept sounding, For long in dreams came features dear. Time passed. Unruly storms confounded Old dreams, and I from year to year Forgot how tender you had sounded, Your heavenly features once so dear. My backwoods days dragged slow and quiet — Dull fence around, dark vault above — Devoid of God and uninspired, Devoid of tears, of fire, of love. Sleep from my soul began retreating, And here you once again appear Before me like a vision fleeting, A beauty's angel pure and clear. In ecstasy the heart is beating, Old joys for it anew revive; Inspired and God-filled, it is greeting The fire, and tears, and love alive.

Alexander Pushkin

"Nature, who for the perfect maintenance of the laws of her general equilibrium, has sometimes need of vices and sometimes of virtues, inspires now this impulse, now that one, in accordance with what she requires."

Marquis de Sade (1740-1814), French author. Dolmancé, in Philosophy in the Bedroom, "Dialogue the Seventh," (1795).

VALENTINE D'ETROIT

Welcome to the 5th installment of The Metropolitan's Valentine Issue. Unlike some other publications, we do not require payment for the right to be considered "Best Of". Here, we call it as we see it. Makes us feel good, and it should make you feel good as well. Know why? Because, we care about where we send you. And, while it is impossible to list everything we love about Detroit we hope you'll consider some of the following points of interest, big or small.

How do we love thee? Let us count the ways ~ -

0. Antoine de Lamothe Cadillac | France

On July 24, 1701, Antoine de Lamothe Cadillac planted the lily strewn banner of France on the bank of the Detroit River. He and his men cleared an acre of land at what is now Jefferson, between Griswold and Shelby, and built Fort Pontchartrain d'Etroit -The city on the Straights - that one day would grow to become world renown.

I. Eastern Market | Detroit

Said it before and we'll say it again, Detroit's eastern market is the heart and soul of the city. Nothing like witnessing the sunrise over Detroit, against a backdrop of farmers yelling out prices of tomatoes and corn.

Supino's stands alone as the only place in town to score a quality "slice". Take it outside, stand on the corner, give it a fold, and bite. Guaranteed to make even your saddest day better.

3. Michigan Central Station | Detroit

The single most photographed building in the city, and an icon of Detroit history. The Metropolitan has long been advocating for the structure to become the first bona fide Ruin in America, complete with museum, coffee bar, external, indirect lighting, an artisan iron fence and an event space on the top floor. Hey – works for Cairo, Athens and Rome.

4. Happy Hour @ Roast | Detroit

Monday through Friday, between the hours of 4:30-6:30, the good folks at Roast offer those in-the-know a Happy Hour fine enough to gain entry into the Happy Hour Hall of Fame, should there ever be one. Food items between $3-$4, great beer and wine prices, though we prefer to order The Metropolitan, a cocktail named after our very own paper - at least that's what we heard.

5. Lafayette Coney | Detroit

"Two up with everything," I always say. A Detroit landmark, finally getting some much deserved national attention. Don't know how healthy it is but sho' tastes good!

6. American Coney Island | Detroit

Can you really have one without the other?

7. Campus Martius Park | Detroit

What a beautiful little park we have right in the center of downtown. Campus Martius offers a gorgeous fountain, bistro tables in the summer, ice-skating in winter and great views all around. Lunch and cocktails at Fountain Bistro are highly recommended. Try the French 75.

8. Belle Isle Conservatory | Detroit

The Anna Scripps Whitcomb Conservatory was built in 1904, designed by Albert Khan and modeled after Thomas Jefferson's Monticello. This historic gem houses varieties of lush tropical flora and fauna, open Wed-Sun year round for the public. During spring and summer months the island is in full bloom including the beautifully manicured gardens surrounding the conservatory (my favorite picnic spot).

9. Woodward Avenue

M1. Michigan Highway 1. The Woodward strip is the cultural corridor of Metropolitan Detroit. It is the location of the first mile of concrete roadway in the country, and is responsible more than anywhere for American car culture. Check us out during Dream Cruise (August) when we remind the world what Detroit Muscle is all about!

10. Ford Motor Company

When the rest of the country was receiving tax dollars, in various forms of Bail Out, Ford Motor Company was restructuring, repositioning and preparing to reappear better and stronger than before. My brother has always been a Ford man, while I drove a Chevy. I am now obliged to tip my hat to an American classic - as responsible as anyone for creating the middle class.

II. The Dirty Show | Detroit

Each year, Jerry Vile and his team of dirty curators come together to orchestrate the largest erotic art show in the world. While the show may not be for everyone, it certainly brings out the naughty in those who attend. Fine art, sculpture and live performance make up the majority of the exhibition, while the dom and sub audience fill out the rest.

12. Taqueria El Ray | Mexicantown

The Best tacos, and chicken cooked out of doors and on the grill, await you at this little, family owned taqueria. No frills, just good, down home, authentic Mexican cooking. Great chips & salsa, Mexican Cokes, rice, beans, tortillas, all combine for a very satisfying lunch.

13. The Detroit Football Lions

This is the year we win the Super Bowl!

14. DTW (Detroit Metropolitan Airport)

Of course we are bias, but DTW is one of the nations, if not the worlds, finest airports. Clean, well run, and filled with plenty to do and see. One of the more fascinating features is the Light Tunnel - connecting Concourse A with Concourse B/C – that is choreographed to ambient music and serves not only as an entertaining way to catch a plane but acts as a noise buffer against jumbo jets rolling over head.

15. Polonia | Hamtramck

Long before the great Anthony Bourdain made his rustbelt trek to Hamtramck's, Polonia restaurant, friends and family have gathered for some good, old fashioned, Polish cooking. Polonia serves tasty dishes at very reasonable rates. Allow us to suggest the Polish combination plate. Na zdrowie!

TAQUERIA ELREY

17. Cliff Bell's | Detroit

Ambiance unparallel. Cliff Bells is a bona fide Detroit treasure. A well lit, speakeasy featuring live music, romantic seating, cocktails and, usually, a solid menu. Hollywood has shot inside Cliff's for years. Just remember to let Tinsel Town know Detroit's the real deal.

18. Como's Deck in the Summertime | Ferndale

Order pepperoni with extra sauce, ask them to add oregano before it goes into the oven - and cook it well, Voila! But, then I'm a bit of an aristocrat when it comes to pizza.

19. Los Galanes | Mexicantown

Fabulous street side seating for a spring/summer time dinner date - accented with spanish tiled tables, colorful lanterns and Pina Coladas. Tacos and guac are sure winners but if you're in the mood for hot food may we suggest Caldo de Pollo (a knockout homemade chicken soup with huge hunks of chicken and vegetables).

20. Germack Coffee Roasting Co | Eastern Market

Nothing like a fine cup of coffee, or an interesting blend of hot tea, to go with the morning sights and sounds of Detroiters, tourists and travelers exploring the district.

21. The Roma Café | Eastern Market

Authentic, old school Italian cooking located in the Eastern Market area. In fact, The Roma is the oldest in the city, serving Detroit since 1890. Though, there are many fine items on the menu, my dad always liked the Strip Sirloin alla pizzaiola, with a side of angel hair pasta!

22. Cost Plus Wine Company | Eastern Market

This family owned and operated wine shop has been supplying Detroiter's with some of the world's finest wine for decades. Inside, you will find a lively atmosphere, with folks from the neighborhood, and market, gathering to share news, good stories, and a lot of laughs.

23. Hungarian Strudel Shop | Allen Park

Flaky Hungarian strudel made daily from scratch for the past 38 years. Strudel flavors available most days are cherry, apple, cheese, blueberry, walnut, apricot, cheese-blueberry, & cheesestrawberry. 10" fresh $5.45-$6.75 & 20" frozen $8.50-$9.75 (baking instructions provided for frozen).

24. The Sugar House | Corktown

Maybe, we should never have mentioned that the Old Fashioned at The Sugar House was only $5 - now it is $7. No matter, the ambiance, cocktails and Detroit spirit that lives inside this Corktown favorite more than makes up for it. Handcraft cocktails made fresh with a sense of history.

25. The Birmingham Theatre sign | Birmingham

Located on Old Woodward Avenue in Birmingham, the Birmingham Theatre sign is one gorgeous, brilliantly lit piece of artwork. Every town should have a working theatre like this, with a colorful sign illuminating the night sky.

26. Baker's Keyboard Lounge | Detroit

My understanding is that Baker's Keyboard Lounge is the oldest working jazz club in the country. Everyone has played here. I have been to Baker's many times for soul food and jazz, half moon booths, dim lighting, music and a split of Champagne to compliment crispy, perfectly spiced, fried chicken.

27. DIA

Plenty to do inside The Detroit Institute of Arts. Galleries contain some of the world's finest works from Titian, Warhol, Monet - even a self-portrait by Van Gogh. Among the cities more romantic environments, The Kresge Court has much to offer the discerning pallet. The Winter Pasta is anything but ordinary and a surprising treat; sautéed with olive oil, fried brussels sprouts, pancetta, blue cheese butter and crushed pine nuts. Open late every Friday with live music, art-making workshops, drawing in the galleries and guided tours. Activities take place from 6-10 p.m. and are free with museum admission.

28. The Sanders Hot Fudge Cream Puff | 9 Metropolitan Locations

Sanders ice cream parlors have been a family tradition since 1875 and the hot fudge ice cream puff remains one of the great creations from le grand d'Etroit. We suggest Butter Pecan, wrapped inside the light, flaky puff.

29. Spanish Coffee, Tom's Oyster Bar | Royal Oak

Since January 17th, 1994, bartenders Frank and Jeff have been turning out the finest cocktails this side of the Atlantic. But, one stands alone as their signature drink - the Spanish Coffee. Romantic, seductive, delicious, I've known few women who could resist its charms - perfect for last call.

30. Hamburger & Fish n Chips, Red Coat Tavern | Royal

Tavern décor - low light, red tufted booths, dark wood and a buzzing atmosphere; this place is always busy, and they have the Best Burger & serve the Top 3 Fish n Chips in the metropolitan area. Strong pours, fair pricing and good service. An industry

31. 1515 Broadway | Detroit

Cafe, black-box theater and Detroit institution since 1987, 1515 Broadway has been the go-to for artists of all breeds, area businesspeople, college students and activists alike. Excellent coffee and tea selection, with sandwiches & baked goods, the café's tables and chairs invite one to enjoy a good read or political debate. Chess enthusiasts will appreciate the street side tables adorned with chess sets. Who says Detroit isn't romantic?

32. The Penobscot Building | Detroit

Enjoy Mad Men? Fantasize about Don Draper selling you a line before taking you to bed? Or, maybe, you prefer the voluptuous redhead? Well, this is where they would work if they were in Detroit. My dad was a broker in this building. We'd ride the train downtown and eat in the cafeteria on the Congress level, where he had me call him "uncle" whenever a voluptuous redhead was nearby.

33. Main Art Theatre | Royal Oak

The best independent cinema can be found at Landmark's Main Art Theatre. Boasting a fine concession counter, complete with gourmet chocolates and coffee, a friendly, knowledgeable staff and a midnight movie program, the Main Art also screens local filmmakers on a regular basis.

34. Behold! The .35 cup of coffee at The Telway | Madison

That's right - with all the high-end, expensive, flavoured, cappuccino, latte, decaf, half-calf Triple grande soy, no foam, extra hot, extra whip, caramel mocha nonsense on the market today it's nice to know one can still find a simple cup of hot coffee at The Telway, open 24 hrs.

35. Union Street | Midtown

An authentic Detroit hang! Good, solid gastro-pub menu that includes an incredible filet and zip sauce. A hundred beers to choose from (give or take), with one of the finest oak bars at which to enjoy, enabling one to pick up on the local vibe of a great American city.

36. Mercury Burger Bar | Corktown

Every time I enter this Corktown establishment I order the same meal: Blue Apple Burger (Blue Cheese, Applewood smoked bacon), with grilled onion, Dreamland BBQ sauce, and a small side of fries. I recommend you do the same.

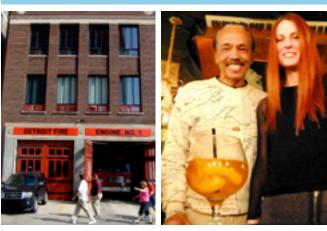

VALENTINE D'ETROIT

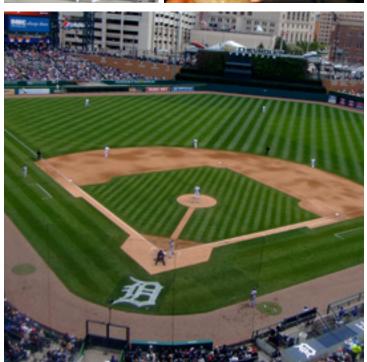

37. Salt & Cedar | Eastern Market

Tucked away in the heart of Eastern Market, this Letterpress/studio offers workshops on printing and bookbinding, hosts community dinners, receives visiting artists, curates exhibitions and operates as a resource for emerging artists. Owners Megan & Leon have designed and printed for Cranbrook Museum of Art, MOCAD, DC3, Alison Knowles, Trinosophes, Great Lakes Coffee, and are available to the public for everything from business cards to your great American novel.

38. The Oakland: Art Novelty Company | Ferndale

One of the premiere locations for handcraft cocktails in Detroit, The Oakland aims "To create an ambience conducive to sophisticated drinking with friends." With the combination of early 20th century Speakeasy elegance, adult House Rules, and the Award Winning cocktail offerings by bartender, Shane McGrath, we would have to say The Oakland has achieved success.

39. Cyberoptix Tie Lab | Detroit

Screenprinted by hand, "elegantly subversive", Designer Bethany Shorb has created an answer for ties that normally suck. Shorb, and her team of artisans, have caught the attention of bpm, Bust, Metro Pop, and even Martha Stewart – Suit up & Boot up Detroit!

40. Detroit Opera House | Theatre District

One of the finest nights one can have in the city, an Opera at the Detroit Opera House. Music, theatre, women in gowns, martinis, the velvet curtain, and the nervous anticipation of witnessing a classic art form – now, where the hell did I put my tie?

41. Le Petit Zinc | Corktown

Feeling a little French? This neighborhood café specializes in crepes, salads, sandwiches, and brunch. With its French colonial vibe, complete with patio sanctuary, I wonder if we wouldn't all be better off with Detroit located on an island in the Caribbean.

42. Bronx Bar | Midtown

The quintessential Detroit corner bar; always had a great jukebox (or two). Good, inexpensive food, particularly the burger & breakfast burrito, a good bar counter for whiskey & beer, and an interesting clientele. Ciao, Tokyo, LA, New York & London; this is how the locals live.

43. Cafe d'Mongos Speakeasy | Detroit

Once, the best kept secret in Detroit; now, the celebrated wonderbar of Capital Park. Forget what you think you know about stepping out on Friday night; let your guard down, relax, explore, and enjoy the experience of new adventure.

44. Detroit Film Theatre | Detroit

The finest in classic, foreign and independent film screened within a 1,200-seat auditorium, designed by Paul Philippe Cret, circa 1927. Food, drink and cineastes mingle in the Crystal gallery, chatting each other up about writers, directors and the state of film. Matinees make for romantic afternoons, but evenings at the Detroit Film Theatre offer the unexpected.

45. Detroit's Thanksgiving Day Parade

It's a wonder Detroit does not get more credit for it's Thanksgiving Day Parade. I've been to New York's a few times and it doesn't even come close; TV viewers should agree, as our parade is just more . . . Thankgivingy. Factor in the Detroit Football Lions Thanksgiving Day game and we own Thanksgiving, period.

46. Le Petit Prince | Birmingham

Authentic French bakery, family owned and operated. Highly recommend the Almond Paste Croissant, Pointu, Mistral or any ganache pastry. Absolutely nothing like it in the state.

47. The Old Shillelagh | Detroit

A great Irish pub: pints, whiskey, women and song, Irish stew, Shepards Pie and the same three damn fine musicians filling the house for more than 15 years.

48. Gayle's Chocolates | DTW & Royal Oak

It's cold out, and chances are it is going to be cold for quite some time. Hot chocolate at the counter of Gayle's makes it all ok. High cocoa chocolate and, if you're lucky, a good snow storm outside to hide from. Other favorites at Gayle's are Chocolate Covered Dried Cherries and Champagne Truffles.

49. Great Lakes Coffee Roasting Company | Detroit

Metropolitan staffers spend many afternoons sipping organic, ethically sourced coffee from this urban roasting company. Brick, hardwood, French bistro tables, community seating, and plenty of natural light combine to form the perfect union of form and function. Great Lakes offers small plates, tea, desserts, and a fully stocked bar, which is where our editor spends most of his time.

50. Breakfast Anytime, Country Boy | Hazel Park

Usually, I go in the morning for 2 well poached eggs, biscuits, real butter, ham and a cup of coffee. But, there have been evenings after the bar when I've added potatoes, with grilled onion. Ask for AI instead of ketchup and you are living the life of a wealthy man.

51. Detroit Fire House

Is that the coolest fire station in town? Thanks for the good work, gentlemen.

52. MC5

An American rock band formed in Lincoln Park.

53. Tiger Stadium - Comerica Park

Though Tiger Stadium is no longer standing the memories of this historic ballpark live on. However, it is incumbent upon us to provide the new generation of fans with the best possible memories of a day at the ballpark, and few in the country are as well suited as Comerica.

54. Goulash & Kremish @ Ellie's Grill | Berkley

A Hungarian stew, comprised of beef, spaetzle (dumplings), and broth, spiced with paprika is both complex and comforting. I simply do not know the words to convey how much I appreciate this dish. For dessert, try the Kremish; a creamy, flakey, sweet little cloud from heaven.

55. Sardine Room | Plymouth

Though Sardine Room specialize in raw bar, seafood and small plates there are a few dishes that keep us coming back: Their Fish and Chips are stellar. Rabbit Paprikash is not something you see everyday, and it is highly recommended. The Portuguese Sardines are also a winner.

56. Brunch at La Dolce Vita | Detroit

Fine food, boisterous atmosphere, live music, and those bottomless mimosas keep Detroiters coming back again and again.

57. Delta Skyclub | DTW

Sit back, relax, have a cocktail, watch CNN, Fox News or MSNBC, pick up The Metropolitan or plug into the world wide web; you're in the hands of professionals, dedicated to making your day a little better.

58. Greektown | Detroit

Yes, I know, Greektown is not what it used to be. But, Manhattan's Little Italy ain't what it used to be either. We still have ouzo and lamb, flaming cheese and baklava, and for one city block you can experience several different restaurants, a casino, a bakery and one or two late night bars. Plus, they pump Greek music through speakers on the street – Opa!

59. The Dirty Dog Jazz Cafe | Grosse Pointe

Live music from national, international and local jazz musicians, a sophisticated menu and atmosphere, a fine happy hour, the perfect place to meet a date, close a deal or romance your significant other. Sounds dirty, doesn't it?

60. MOVEMENT Electronic Music Festival

Is it the world's largest electronic music festival or just the best? Not really sure. Let's just say it gets respect. MOVEMENT inspires thousands of audiophiles from all corners of the world to fly in and dance in the streets of Detroit over memorial weekend.

61. Greenfield Village/The Henry Ford | Dearborn

Greenfield Village takes us back in time, with Model T rides, steam engine train rides, workers dressed in period clothing, famous buildings and homes, time period meals served at The Eagle Tavern, a beautiful antique carousel, and special holiday events.

62. The Rattlesnake Club | Detroit

Local first, seasonal always, inspired cuisine that continues to place among the highest ranked in the country. Open for lunch, Happy Hour and Dinner, serving fish, meats and game birds, The Rattlesnake also boasts an exceptional wine list, upscale décor, and impeccable reputation.

63. The Dakota Inn (Rathskeller) | Detroit

Though I never tire of genuine German fare, or steins filled with ale, Oktoberfest is the perfect time, and the only place in Metropolitan Detroit, where one can properly raise their chalice to the Gods of brew!

64. St. Patrick's Day Parade | Corktown

Detroit loves a parade, and chances are there are many who are already counting the days to Corktowns' St Patty's Day march. Start time this year is noon. Be prepared for marching bands, pip & drum bands, floats, color guard, and thousands of Detroit's finest drinking, eating, and making merry.

65. Slows Bar B Q | Corktown

It would be impossible to speak of Corktown without the discussion of Slows Bar B Q. Although, owner Phillip Cooley has earned more global press than most BBQ joints, due mostly to his direct involvement in the rebuilding of Corktown, it is important to note that Slows is still king when it comes to solid BBQ fair. My preference is The Reason, or the Pulled Pork, with Mac & Cheese, up at the bar, with plenty of Bourbon to wash it all down.

66. Majestic Complex | Detroit

Beer, bowling, loud music, shots, local and national touring acts, a summertime deck. and good old fashioned Detroit fun for the rock and roll, hipster in us all.

67. Faygo Rock & Rye

This pop is a true original (yes, we call it "pop" here...go get a soda in some other town) and uniquely Detroit. Particularly fond of the retro throwback glass bottles, brilliant!

68. The Belleville Three

Hats off to Juan Atkins, Derrick May & Kevin Saunderson for making Detroit the birthplace of Techno; the world has been listening, it has been influenced, and it continues to honor these prized, living legends of the form.

69. Royal Oak Farmer's Market | RO

Fresh produce on Friday and Saturdays, a flea market on Sunday, a fabulous coffee stand, Barbara's Books, Mei Mei's handmade soap, people watching - in a revamped historic structure - all make for a satisfying weekend family afternoon.

70. Packzi Day | Hamtramck

The little Polish town called Hamtramck celebrates Fat Tuesday with the traditional Polish donut (pronounced Poonch-key). They are heavenly sinful.

71. The Rustbelt Market | Ferndale

The creation of Tiffany and Chris Best, Rustbelt Market is a terribly well designed retail & event space, loaded with area artisans, craftsmen, and culinary artists. Spend hours among original works, repurposed items, and the curios of over 50 vendors. The Rustbelt also operates as an incubator for small business, having launched the opening of several vendors into their own space.

72. The Scarab Club | Detroit

For over 100 years, the Scarab Club has brought art to the community. The current building has been in use since 1928 and houses some of the areas more interesting emerging artists. Gorgeous courtyard for summer & fall musings.

73. Camilo Pardo | the Bankle Building | Detroit

Muli media artist, fashion designer, automobile designer, and boy racer of Detroit, Camilo is also responsible for some of the best parties in the city, which take place inside The Bankle.

74. Detroit Athletic Club

Had lunch with Ms. Martha Reeves awhile back inside the DAC - before she honored my brother and I with a personal tour of the Motown Museum - and knew immediately that I wanted to become a member, though they probably would never allow it.

75. Motown Museum | Detroit

This is where the Motown sound was created. The building itself is a time capsule full of heart, soul and fabulous music. A must stop for travelers, music lovers, and Detroit history buffs.

76. Valentine Distilling Co. | Ferndale

The creation of Rifino Valentine, the distilling company is a throwback to those happy days of prohibition. Rifino refurbished the building with his own hands, utilizing reclaimed brick, glass and ironwork from abandoned Detroit rubble. Lovers of hand crafted cocktails can choose from vodka, gin and whiskey based libations, hand crafted by Nick Brancaleone, mixologist.

77. Leon and Lulu | Clawson

79. Detroit Zoo | Royal Oak

A day at the zoo is time well spent and we have one of the worlds best. I love to ride the train to the rear of the zoo and wind my way forward. For a little while, I am far away and happy, until some mother decides to publicly humiliate her self by tanning the hide of her child to the sound of its tears.

80. Pita Café | Oak Park

Flavorful and satisfying middle eastern fare. Love the whole lentil soup and the fattoush salad. A neighborhood favorite for years.

81. The Village of Franklin

The historic village of Franklin is the right size for a charming day trip. Pop in to the many quaint shops, while strolling past century old, restored homes and buildings. Be sure to visit Franklin Cider Mill and indulge in hot donuts and cider. Grab lunch or dinner & drinks at The Franklin Grill.

82. Henry The Hatter | Detroit

Gentlemen: If you are looking to up your image there is no other place in Detroit to appropriately top your outfit than Henry The Hatter. Let these professionals show you why they have been in business since 1893.

83. Detroit Red Wings

One of the great teams in the NHL; in fact, if the Wings aren't playing, I'm not watching.

84. Detroit Goodfellows

Since 1914, the Old Newsboys Goodfellows Fund of Detroit has provided children with gifts for the holidays. "No kiddie without a Christmas". Detroitgoodfellows.org

85. Pewabic Pottery | Detroit

Founded in 1903 by Marry Chase Stratton, Pewabic Tiles have been used in designs that include Detroit Public Library, Holy Redeemer, works by Albert Kahn and more. The now non for profit organization offers workshops, tours, a showroom and gift shop.

86. Hamido Restaurant | Dearborn

Among the many Middle Eastern restaurants in metropolitan Detroit, Hamido ranks at the top for the sheer quality and flavor of the food.

87. Sky Bar | Detroit

On the 33rd floor of The David Stott Building sets a lounge with devastatingly beautiful views of Detroit, well designed, glamorous & cozy rooms for conversation, and adult cocktails that bring it all together. A full dinner menu is available on the ground floor companion space.

88. Noble Fish | Clawson

The sushi is superior; the 22oz of Kirin Ichiban is also superior. Together they make everything wonderful. There isn't much more for me to say; if you love sushi, you must visit Noble Fish.

89. Jamaican Queens

The bands 2013 release, WORMFOOD is among the new millenniums finest. Released on vinyl this year.

90. Theatre Bizarre

John Dunivant is the man behind this annual masquerade, which is, quite frankly, the Greatest on Earth. Hundreds of performers, freaks, musicians, and bands meet thousands of attendees dressed in spectacular costumes. Has been held lately inside Masonic Temple.

91. Bike Culture

Back Alley Bikes, The Hub, Ferndale Bike Shop, Corktown Cycles, Wheelhouse Detroit and those who love to ride bicycles have all come together to make the Motor City bike friendly.

92. Dutch Girl Donuts | Detroit

Family owned and operated since 1947; you can taste the family tradition. No frills, no seating, just AWESOME donuts. If you're an out-of-towner looking to win the hearts of locals, bring a box of Dutch Girls.

93. Northern Lights Lounge | Midtown

Genuine people fill this retro lounge. Old School bar, ambient lighting, half moon booths, cleverly designed restrooms, great music, and a personable and solid staff. It's amazing how effortless 'cool' can be.

94. PENN Theatre | Plymouth

The Friends of the PENN Theatre have come together to refurbish and save this landmark cinema, first opened in 1941. New & revival movies, very reasonable ticket & refreshment rates, combine to make this theatre going experience a welcomed alternative to the Megaplex.

95. A train runs through it | Royal Oak

Are we the only ones who enjoy waiting for the train to pass through town?

96. The Shvitz

Shvitz Health Club was a hangout for The Purple Gang back in the 1930s. Today, it's a Detroit bathhouse – modeled after Russian bathhouses – a social club, and a Saturday night hangout for sophisticated couples.

The following information is designed to help navigate the Detroit Metropolitan Airport (DTW) and its surrounding areas:

DTW has two terminals: McNamara & North. Delta and its Sky Team partners Air France and KLM Royal Dutch Airlines operates from McNamara Terminal, while all other airlines operate from North Terminal.

BAGGAGE CLAIM

When you arrive at DTW, follow the signs toward the terminal/baggage claim. If you wish to grab a bite to eat or browse one of DTW's many shops before leaving the airport, we recommend stopping PRIOR to leaving the TSA-screened area, as food and shopping options are limited outside of security. If you have baggage to collect, take the elevator/escalator down one level to Baggage Claim. At the bottom of the escalators, check overhead monitors to find the Baggage Carousel for your flight. All baggage carousels at DTW are shared among airlines, so be sure to look for your arriving flight (listed in alphabetical order by the city you last departed).

Missing something? If a checked bag does not appear on the carousel assigned to your flight, or if you believe you may have left something onboard the aircraft, visit your airline's Baggage Service Office located on the baggage claim level.

TRANSPORTATION

Luxury Sedans and Taxis are available 24/7 from each terminal's Ground Transportation Center, and no advanced reservation is required.

North Terminal: Both Luxury Sedan and Taxi services are dispatched from the upper level of the Ground Transportation Center. Upon arrival in Detroit, and once all checked luggage has been claimed, follow signs to Ground Transportation on Level 4.

McNamara Terminal: Both Luxury Sedan and Taxi services are dispatched from the center of the Ground Transportation center, located on level 4 of the McNamara Garage. Upon arrival in Detroit, and once all checked luggage has been claimed, follow signs to Ground Transportation.

All courtesy shuttles to local hotels, rental car agencies, on and off-airport parking, as well as all commercial shuttle services, pick-up and drop-off at each terminal's Ground Transportation Center. To access these shuttles upon arrival in Detroit, once you have claimed any checked luggage, follow terminal signs to Ground Transportation.

CURRENCY EXCHANGE

ICE Currency Exchange kiosks are available for passengers at the North Terminal and the McNamara Terminal. The general public can access all Pre-Security ICE Currency Exchange areas. We suggest you call ahead for the hours of operation.

Airport Ambassadors

Identified by their blue vests, Airport Ambassador voulunteers can be found at information desks located in each Terminal or roving to assist customers throughout airport facilities. Ambassadors help the elderly. international travelers and persons with disabilities navigate their way through the airport. They help passengers make their connecting flights, find their families, or map out the next steps of their journey. They find safe lodging for stranded passengers and connect returning soldiers with their families. They assist airports and airlines with helping customers navigate the facility.

SORA | JAPANESE CUISINE & SUSHI BAR

The images we have placed before you are that of Soba Japanese restaurant and a bowl of Ramen. Our understanding, as told us by our server, Trang, is that the Ramen at Sora is so delicious that, when the good folks at Korean Air had to cancel its flights out of DTW, due to snowy weather, the entire passenger list disembarked and headed straight for a bowl of Ramen. Subsequently, when we arrived to also order a bowl of Ramen, we were told Sora was out of egg noodles. Therefore, our Ramen was presented with udon noodles, which still made for a delicious bowl of soup. Served alongside an endless cup of hot, green tea, with news of the day, as told by Trang, and the moral of this story is, "don't worry if you arrive at Sora Japanese Cuisine just moments after an entire flight of Koreans - you will not go hungry or be disappointed by improvisation.
